

Expect Completion of Lodge at End October

Rotarians, their wives, and guests took an opportunity to tour the Senior Citizens Home while still under construction last week.

Superintendent Ray Burken of Forest Construction pointed out rooms and highlights in their various stages of construction, explaining that due to labor and weather problems, roofing was behind schedule. Otherwise, all sub-trades such as plumbing, heating, masonry, and electricity were well in advance. Stud walls were right on schedule and he hoped that the roofing would be finished by the end of the week.

The $500,000 home, a project of the Alberta government, is expected to be completed by the end of October, Mr. Burken said.

It will have 50 bedrooms, three of which are doubles, thus accommodating 53 elderly citizens as well as administrative staff.

It features a dining room, lounge area, occupational therapy room, library, stainless steel kitchen, matron's suite, assistant matron's suite, laundry room, showers and baths, and hairdressers suite. Basement will have space for storage, a handicraft room, and a mechanical room.

Each bedroom has a toilet and hand basin, with furnishings. The occupant will have to bring only his or her necessities.

The view from the home itself is beautiful, and, to add to that, the entire area will be landscaped and paved, with parking provided on three sides.

One inside garden is enhanced by a fountain, bridge, walkways made of tree stumps, and a flower planter. Nearby is an 18 foot fireplace, with four-foot firebox. A second inside garden area will be in the form of a figure-eight pool with flowers surrounding it, and a faced brick wall behind, through which one can enter the staff lounge area.

Both landscaped areas will feature plastic skylights to let in sun.

Outside, a pond will landscape the west side, with the main entrance and parking area on the east side.

Mr. Burken felt that the community reaction to the building of the home was somewhat apathetic. He said the Rotarians were one of the first groups who had shown much interest, and he hoped this would lead people to come and view its progress.

Tennis Tourney

A tennis tournament will be held Saturday, August 26 and Sunday, August 27 at the Drayton Valley Tennis Club courts.

The four events will feature junior and senior men, and junior and senior ladies. First, second and third place trophies will be offered in each event.

The entry fee of $1.00 will be used to supply new balls for the tournament.

Deadline for entry and fees is August 24. Phone 542-4085, 542-4512, or 542-3983. Check the tennis bulletin board or phone 542-4512 or 542-4085 for time schedules August 25.

Horticultural Show Today

The best in flowers, vegetables, fruits and field crops are being displayed and judged today at the annual Drayton Valley and District Flower and Horticultural Show at the Elks Hall.

Sponsored by the Women's Institute, judges are hoping for more participation in the field crops division. This event includes displays of sheaves of wheat, barley and oats, the grain to have been 1971 growth, and judging based on color of straw, size and uniformity of head, quality, make-up of sheaf, and purity of variety.

Displays in the flower class include asters, begonias, dahlias, calendula, gladioli, marigolds, nasturtiums, pansies, petunias, roses, lilies, stocks, snapdragons, sweet peas, zinnias, house plants, cor-sages, and arrangements.

Judges have been pleased with the numbers in the flowers, vegetables and fruits classes and hope such participation will continue.

The show will be open to the public from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., with ribbon prizes and trophies being awarded.

Uganda Missionaries To Visit All Saints

During the last week in August, from August 27th to September 3rd, the All Saints Anglican Church congregation will welcome two missionaries from Uganda, Howard Hawes and his wife, Janice, into the fellowship. They are home on furlough for a year, during which time Howard will take pre-ordination training at the Montreal Diocesan Theological College prior to his ordination by the Bishop of Ruwenzori to work in the Church of Uganda.

Howard, who once worked in the Church Army in Manitoba, will be preaching at a Family Service at 10:00 a.m. on August 27th. The congregation hopes all parents and children who are not away on holiday will join us at this time, and for a luncheon in the Parish Hall afterwards. During the week there will be children's meetings in church from Monday to Friday at 10:00 a.m. for under ten's and at 3:00 p.m. for pre-teens and teenagers. Also part of the program, there is to be a ladies' coffee morning on Wednesday, August 30th and a men's breakfast on Saturday, September 2nd, and the week will end with Holy Communion on Sunday, September 3 at 11:00 a.m.

Several members of the congregation have offered to provide a meal for Howard and Janice during the week, and to invite friends to join them. In this way people shall be able to meet them personally and hear about their work. If there are any more offers for a mid-day or evening meal, please get in touch with one of the congregation.

4-H Club Members Enjoy Summer Events

The Lindale 4-H Swine Club went to Leduc July 30th to meet the exchange students from Wisconsin. Jim Martin, Tom Martin and Cy Young will be host to three of the students.

On August 2 the host families and several other 4-H'ers visited the archives, parliament building and the airport in Edmonton.

4-H members and families from Lindale, Carn-wood and Leduc met at the Game Farm on August 5 where they had dinner and toured the farm.

Some families hosting the exchange students from Wisconsin travelled to the mountains to offer their guests a look at Alberta's mountains, ice fields and hot springs.

Lindale's 4-H Swine Club will hold its next meeting at Jim Holmgren's on August 22.

Mayerthorpe Wins Fastball Tourney Here

The Drayton Valley Girls Fastball team in the Ladies league hosted a four-team tournament at West Valley Lions Park August 20, with Mayerthorpe walking away with the top prize of $25.

Alder Flats took second with one win and one loss, Tomahawk third with one win and one loss, and Drayton Valley landed on the bottom with two losses.

Drayton Valley met Mayerthorpe in their first game at 12:30, and lost to Tomahawk in their second game only after going into an eighth inning.

The "Legionettes" will be finishing the season at Alder Flats this weekend in an eight-team tournament. They are coached by Bruce Cable, who has coached the team for the past six years.

Minor football practices now underway in preparation for new season.

Little Leaguers Launch New Football Season

Football season has hit Drayton Valley.

Last week, boys 10-14 years of age donned shoulder pads, helmets and sweaters and began training for the Little Canadian Football League in Drayton Valley.

Although only about 50 boys have registered so far, Recreation Director Mike Gourmlay feels that once holidays are over and boys are back for school, the league will boast over 70 players.

In its 13th season this year, the league is divided into three teams--each competing for the season-end trophy.

Coaches Dale Clemmer of the Eskimos, Bill Hanson of the Stampeders, and Bruce Clemmer of the Blue Bombers feel the teams won't be ready for the first scheduled game August 28. However, it is hoped that any scheduled games missed will be played before the season finishes.

For parents and supporters, the schedule has been set as follows: Monday, Aug. 28, Eskimos vs Stampeders; Wed., Aug. 30, Stampeders vs Blue Bombers; Tues., Sept. 5, Eskimos vs Blue Bombers; Thurs., Sept. 11, Blue Bombers vs Eskimos; Thurs., Sept. 14, Eskimos vs Stampeders; Mon., Sept. 18, Stampeders vs Blue Bombers; Wednesday, Sept. 20, Blue Bombers vs Eskimos; Thurs., Sept. 21, Eskimos vs Stampeders; Mon., Sept. 25, Stampeders vs Blue Bombers; Wed., Sept. 27, Eskimos vs Blue Bombers; Thurs., Sept. 28, Eskimos vs Stampeders; Sun., Oct. 1, Stampeders vs Blue Bombers; Mon., Oct. 2, Eskimos vs Blue Bombers.

Semi-finals will be a two-game-total point series, with the team finishing in second place playing off against the team in third place on Oct. 4 at 5:00 and Oct 5 at 5:00 p.m.

The team finishing first in league will meet the winner of the semi-finals in a two-out-of-three game series for the Forster Trophy Oct. 10, 11, and 12.

All weekday games will start at 5:00 p.m., with all weekend games scheduled for 4:00 p.m. at the Little Canadian Football Field in West Valley Park.

D.V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

The following is a letter received by His Worship, Mayor Lloyd McLean, and I quote: "This is to inform you of a 50th wedding anniversary celebration to be held in Garnduff, Saskatchewan on August 27th, 1972 honouring Fred and Hazel Chalmers. Fred Chalmers had built a blacksmith shop in your town in 1935. His family followed by way of the mail man and democrat and team and got stuck in the rain on the gumbo roads. They had to walk for miles behind the team from Jensen's Corner." Unquote. The letter is signed L. Chalmers and is, I presume, an invitation to anyone who might wish to attend the festivities to do so.

Four young ladies from the Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation were in town last week to evaluate the work of the Municipal Library as part of a province wide project that is being undertaken this summer. Mrs. Ellen Heaney is in charge of the four-woman team. The others were Barbara Kell, Barbara Schlayer and Joyce Crowl. Mrs. Heaney met with library board chairman, Mrs. Marjorie Barnes, and the others made a house-to-house canvass of the residential district calling on every tenth house with a prepared questionnaire. Information gathered is fed into a computer and a copy of the report will be available to all library boards in the province.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barton, a daughter, and grandchildren, all of Red Deer, were guests of the Claude Frees last week. Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Free are sisters.

A warm welcome goes to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon

Schmell and sons, David, Patrick and Jon. Mr. Schmell is in charge of Continental Emsco.

During a recent visit in Chilliwack Chester Miller had a visit with Harry Zolmer. Harry, never happy unless he is going at top speed, retirement or no retirement, has a job with a florist delivering flowers.

After eight years in our town Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan and family of three will be leaving to live in Winnipeg. Mr. Cowan has accepted the position of Assistant Grand Secretary to the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. He has been a prominent member of this organization for the past seventeen years. Mr. Cowan will be commencing his duties on November 1 and Mrs. Cowan will follow with the children during the Christmas Holidays.

To Mrs. Vance Erickson, her children and all members of the Erickson family, our deepest sympathy in their recent tragic bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Clark and family, from Sarnia, Ontario, are here to visit Mrs. Clark's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hill.

It is a pleasure to see Mr. Earl Thompson about after his recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johanneson and Derek covered almost six thousand miles during their three week holiday and made every day count. With Los Angeles as a southern destination, they were able to include Salt Lake City and Los Vegas. Five days in Los Angeles were spent on such major attractions as Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Mar-ineland and the John Wayne Theatre. On the return trip the coast road was followed to San Francisco and then it was on to Canada to visit the senior Johannesons in White Rock and go to Victoria for a few hours. It has been suggested that Mr. Johanneson tells of his travels so entertainingly that if he ever wants to change jobs he might do very well writing travel brochures.

Mr. Bruce Free of Kelowna, visited his parents for a few days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cooper of Lummi Island, Washington were in town for a few hours one day last week. Mrs. Cooper is the former Evelyn Neff. The Neff family moved from Drayton Valley in 1935. Mrs. Cooper tried to locate the site of her old home, about where the Wilfred English house stands now, but was unsuccessful. Mr. and Mrs. Neff are both quite well their daughter reports. She says that it would give her father great pleasure if some of the oldtimers would write to him. His address is Mr. Louis Neff, 746 North 68 St. Seattle, Washington.

To Induct New Minister

An important event will take place at the United Church on Sunday, August 27th, 8:00 p.m. with the induction of Rev. Hugh Bayne, the new minister.

The congregation is urged to attend and any other persons wishing to attend are most welcome.

Lunch will be served by the UCW after service.

A bad hail storm went over Buck Lake and area just over a week ago.

Severe Hail Strikes Central Alberta Points

Last week was another busy one for the Alberta Hail Studies project with hail walnut size or larger being reported somewhere between Edmonton and Calgary on seven consecutive days from Monday August 7 to Sunday August 13. On three days the hail was very isolated, but during the four days of August 8th to 11th, several severe storms occurred with golfball or larger hail reported every day.

The period of severe hail activity commenced after the warm weather on the holiday weekend with several storms forming in the foothills northwest of Calgary on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 8. Three flights were made with the seeding aircraft; and although one storm produced some large hail south of Cremona, none of the storms persisted very long.

The following day storms began forming in the same place. These storms were heavily seeded by dropping a total of 195 flares during a period of five hours. A small pocket of large hail fell northwest of Cochrane, but otherwise the hail was small. Later in the day some smaller hail fell in the Trochu and Wetaskiwin areas.

On Thursday, August 10, storms developed in the Calgary area; and since these presented a threat to the south of the primary target area, they were seeded with 114 flares over a period of three hours until they passed east of Strathmore. Later in the evening a very severe storm moved in from north of Alder Flats across Pigeon Lake and eventually died west of Wetaskiwin about midnight. In the Buck Lake and Winfield areas 20 farmers reported hail golfball size and another 9 observed hail even larger. This storm was not seeded because seeding had already been carried out in the primary target area further south.

The most widespread hail activity so far this summer occurred on Friday, August 11, as several severe storms swept through the area between Red Deer and Edmonton. The first storm came in over Alder Flats at 3:00 p.m. producing hail up to golfball size near Winfield and severe damage was reported in a strip 20 miles long and 2 to 3 miles wide. This storm was then heavily seeded for the next hour with the T-33 jet making 10 seeding passes and dropping a total of 79 flares into the newly developing cloud towers. Meanwhile the Cessna aircraft was continuously photographing the storm from 18,000 ft. During and immediately after seeding the storm produced only pea size hail; but about half an hour after seeding ended the storm regenerated briefly and produced golfball hail again between Millet and Hay Lakes. Excellent radar records were obtained on this storm, and the telephone survey has provided a very complete picture of the hailfall. Detailed analysis of this storm should thus determine whether the seeding was in fact the cause of the marked reduction in hail size.

Later on the same day, a line of storms containing several hail cells moved across the northern half of the Alberta Hail Studies project area. Large hail fell in a 35 mile long strip from Crimson Lake to Eckville and also near Bluffton. Very heavy damage was reported in a pocket centered 15 miles east of Ponoka from large hail that fell at midnight. None of these later storms were seeded.

The number of hail reports collected on last Friday's storms so far totals 618 -- the most for any day this year. Ten farmers reported hail larger than golfball size, 55 farmers reported hail golfball size and over 100 reports of walnut sized hail were received.

On Saturday and Sunday the storm activity tapered off again with only a few isolated reports of hail.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
The Western Review:

Like many of your readers, I own property in Alberta. As a property owner, I am deeply disturbed by the implications - legal and social - contained in the Government of Alberta's Bill 107. I think the matter deserves wide public debate.

The Bill, an amendment to the Public Lands Act, has received first reading in the legislature. In essence, it would restrict the sale of Provincial Crown land to Canadian citizens or Canadian owned corporations.

The Bill would also provide, by means of a caveat, that the land is liable to be re-vested in the Crown in the event that "the registered owner or one of the registered owners is a. a person who is not a Canadian citizen, or b. a corporation that is not a Canadian corporation, or c. a person or corporation acting as a trustee for a person who is not a Canadian citizen or for a corporation that is not a Canadian corporation". (The amendment defines "a Canadian corporation" as a corporation in which not less than 75% of the equity shares are owned by Canadians).

Although I question the wisdom of the broad policy decision that lies behind this amendment, my main purpose here is to draw attention to certain specific principles that deserve close scrutiny by your readers.

The aim of this amendment is clearly to close certain loop holes in existing legislation. At present, all initial dispositions of public lands in Alberta are by lease. Canadian citizens can purchase these lease holds once building conditions have been met. Foreign citizens are not given this option; they must continue as lease holders.

However, there now is nothing to prevent a Canadian citizen later reselling land purchased from the Crown to a non-Canadian if he so wishes. Bill 107 would change that situation. The caveat attached to the title would make all such land -- public land sold after the act comes into force -- liable to be re-vested in the Crown should it at any point be resold to a foreigner.

The overall purpose here is simple enough. The complicating factor, of course, is how the legislation would operate. It is not hard to imagine the problems of title which may arise one hundred, fifty or only twenty years from now should it be discovered that somewhere along the line the land had been conveyed to a person or corporation failing to meet the citizenship qualifications. Even if the land had subsequently been sold again and conveyed back to a bonified Canadian, the title would still be clouded and the new owner could never be certain that the Province did not have some claim on his freehold possession.

In my opinion, Bill 107 introduces a discriminatory clause into the process whereby certain types of property are bought and sold. This in itself seems of dubious merit. The bill is an attempt to find a compromise between what should be two clear cut positions: either Crown land should be available for sale to anybody, without discrimination, whether they live in Banff or Boston or Budapest; or Crown land should be available only by lease to Canadians and non-Canadians alike, a position adopted by the Government of Ontario and British Columbia.

Any middle position, which Bill 107 represents, is patently unfair and, I repeat, invites complicated legal repercussions. We are finally beginning to find firm ground after decades of confusion generated by the question of dower rights. Introducing the question of true nationality in property transactions would lead us back into the muskeg.

Moreover, I am alarmed to note that a special committee of the legislature has been appointed to consider all foreign ownership in Alberta, including private as well as public lands. Should restrictions similar to those expressed by Bill 107 ever be extended to cover the sale of private land, the legal repercussions would not just be complicated; they would be horrendous.

In addition, as I am sure your readers will realize, a ban on the sale of private land to foreigners, would drive down the value of private property throughout the

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By KEVIN PETERSON

The provincial government has suggested four alternatives ranging from a guaranteed basic income to a fully municipal welfare system as starting points for debate on a new Alberta welfare scheme.

One year after the election of the Conservative government, a position paper by Bruce Rawson, chief deputy minister of health and social development, is being circulated across the province to gather ideas for a revamped social assistance program.

During the election campaign, the Tories scored the present arrangement -- which sees the province handling most caseloads, with some being left to local government -- because it offers no incentive to get off welfare.

The paper also says means are being considered to increase the cash a person can earn before losing some social assistance benefits so recipients will be encouraged to work.

Current regulations allow recipients to earn only $25 if a family or $15 if single before the monthly social assistance cheque is cut by the amount earned.

Mr. Rawson also suggests an income test may be implemented instead of the current needs test which requires applicants to dispose of all but $1,000 in assets before they are eligible.

"The asset limitations, intended to encourage persons to rely on their own resources first, appear to reward financial irresponsibility," the report says.

The report does not indicate which of the four alternative systems -- guaranteed basic income, provincial control, municipal control or a shared system -- the government prefers.

Handing control to either the provincial or local governments solely would "eliminate the need" for duplicating administrative structures.

But even if the province offered substantial financial aid to municipalities for such a scheme, the areas where help is needed most might be short of cash.

Guaranteeing a basic income based on average Alberta needs would cost more than the present system and duplicate many of its problems, the report says.

"The social and economic effects of such a scheme are complex. Not the least of these is the impact such a plan would have on individual initiative and incentive to work."

The paper does say the new government is committed to a welfare system that does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin and gives applicants a full guarantee of confidentiality and the right to appeal. In addition, it should leave recipients with their dignity by giving them as much control as possible over how they spend their money.

It would also, in my opinion, violate fundamental rights, incur grave economic consequences in farm and recreational areas and, possibly, lead to a protracted constitutional argument.

I am as fervent a nationalist as the next man. But a policy that interferes with a person's right to sell his land to whomever he wishes -- and we have the beginnings with Bill 107 of the sort of nationalism we fought wars against these days.

Yours sincerely,

How Big Is Good?

In recent reports taken from national papers and magazines, it appears a trend is being set up to reverse the influx of people to various cities and towns. As an example of this trend one city in Oregon has a sign which reads "Thank you for coming to visit, but please don't stay".

Calgary in this past year has had many proposals put forward by groups and individuals, outlining ways and means of limiting the size of their city.

In Russia some cities are issuing permits to desirable "would-be" residents.

As congestion and pollution are factors that accompany growth many smaller cities and towns are taking a look at their own particular situation.

Industrialization, until recently, was a welcome addition to any community. Now, however, industry has to prove to the authoritative bodies concerned, that they will in fact have a steady pay roll, that they will not pollute the area (either with noise or pollution of the air or water).

Up until recently 'invasion of privacy' was just a nice term to say that a person or person's right to live quietly had been abused. Now it is a legal term. Suits are commonplace where individuals are suing to maintain their privacy. One instance commonly known, is the Leduc residents forcing aircraft to fly designated routes on approach and take-off.

Smoke belching industrial plants are facing the courts daily. Seattle recently suffered the greatest land value drop in history, when their main source of employment suffered loss of contracts.

Drayton Valley is a relatively small community by the standards of cities, and areas affected, however our privacy and freedom of movement are priceless.

What is a desirable size for Drayton Valley -- 5,000 - 10,000 - ??

Father Lynch Transferred

The sudden news of the transfer of Father Lynch to Wetaskiwin came as a shock to many of the parishioners of his church as well as many of his friends of all denominations.

Perhaps the suddenness and the lack of normal notice proved to be the most disturbing factor.

Father Lynch has been a valuable asset to the community. The sudden removal of a priest from an area is bound to have a profound effect. In Father Lynch's case, this degree of sadness is doubled because of his genuine concern for people of all walks of life regardless of race, creed, or denomination.

The priest to follow Father Lynch comes to a difficult situation. He follows a beloved man who was active and served his people well. It is to be hoped he will be given every opportunity to fill the gap left by Father Lynch.

First Australian Cattle Shipment Arrives

When Pacific Western Airlines' cargo plane with 36 Australian cattle aboard touched down at Edmonton's International Airport last week, it brought livestock transportation into the jet age. It also marked the arrival of the first shipment of Australian cattle to the North American continent, and the opening of Edmonton's minimum quarantine station.

In less than 19 hours, 18 Australian Polled Short-horn and 18 Murray Grey heifers and bulls had flown all the way from Sydney, Australia to Edmonton, culminating months of planning and negotiating.

Before the livestock were allowed into Canada, Australia had to assure Canadian health of animals authorities that the cattle had had the prescribed tests on their farms of origin, and that they had gone through a stringent 30-day quarantine period in Sydney, Australia.

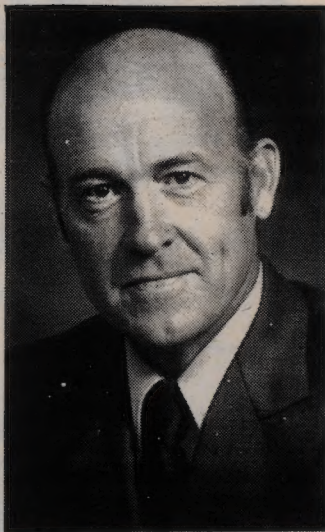

The plane was met by press, radio and television personnel as well as by top-ranking federal and provincial agricultural officials. They included Dr. Ken Wells, veterinary director general with the Canada department of agriculture; Dr. R. J. McClenaghan, head of contagious diseases control with CDA; Dr. H.N. Vance, director of the Alberta veterinary services division, and W.H.T. Mead, director of the Alberta animal industry division.

Dr. McKeon of Ottawa; Dr. Hollingsworth of Cardson who is a director of the Murray Grey Association; and Lord Roderick Gordon, president of the Murray Grey Association, accompanied the cattle on their more than 9,000 air mile trip. The plane was a specially adapted Pacific Western Airlines' Boeing 707 which had been chartered by the Murray Grey Association. All the cattle arrived in excellent condition.

They will spend the next 90 days in the Edmonton quarantine station before continuing their journeys to farms and ranches in various parts of B.C., Alberta and Ontario. They are being stabled with a number of Canadian "contact" cattle as a further safeguard against the possibility of a rare disease. The quarantine regulations are so strict in Edmonton that nobody will be allowed to see the cattle until they are released at the end of October or early in November.

Anyone who wants to import purebred cattle from Australia has to apply to the health of animals branch of the Canada department of agriculture for a permit. Since permits have already been issued for the three shipments that are scheduled to arrive in Edmonton during the next year, those applying for a permit now will be given space on subsequent plane loads. To keep transportation costs to a minimum, cattle shipments have to be scheduled well ahead so that the aircraft has time to collect a cargo to take to Australia.

Wildwood Summer Fair Preserves Country-time Atmosphere

Thirty-four years ago, farmers in the Wildwood area brought their best-looking livestock, their baking and their handiwork to Wildwood to compete in the Agricultural Society's first summer fair.

Since then, many events have been added, some deleted, but the atmosphere still remains the same.

Friday, August 18, summer fair activities took over the town as officers and organizers of the fair saw the day as a culmination of their year's planning and work.

While judges tasted, felt, smelled, and thoroughly examined entries in the various categories, a parade down Wildwood's main street got the people into the spirit of things.

Some 20 entries made their way past the crowds, with winners as follows: float, first, Wildwood Public Library; second, Junkins Community Association; third, United Farmers of Alberta. Decorated car or truck, first Alberta Beach Museum; Wildwood Gulf, second; Farmers Trading, third.

Horse and rider, costume, first, Shirley Getson; second, Maggie Szutiak; horse and rider, western, first, Niton Central 4-H Club;

Charlene Rehn and Moreen Budjinsky, second. Decorated bicycle, first Greg Gatzke; second, Donna Willett; third, Kelly Cooley. Doll carriage, trike, or wagon, Peter Brown and group, first; Jackie Cooley, second; Vivian Tornberg, third.

Groomed pet, Dean Wholgemuth, first; Jeff Bruner, second; Willis Michalchuk, third. Marching group, Pioneer Girls of Wildwood; 4-H Float, combination of the various 4-H Clubs; Clowns, Wanda Calihoux, first; Stacey Royko, second, Andre Michalchuk and Jim Chernecki, third.

Agricultural Fair Queen crown went to 14-year-old Trudy Huddleston, sponsored by the Junkins Community Association. Her runners-up were Linda Stone, sponsored by the Ravine Community Association, and Kitty Szutiak, sponsored by 4-H Clubs.

The $25 first prize in the Queen's draw went to Elmer Reihl of Wildwood, second prize of $15 was won by Brenda Rehn of Wildwood; and third prize of $10 went to Bob Caron of Evansburg.

Results of the Agricultural competitions will be announced next week.

FABRIC ROLLER SHADES

A fabric shade can solve more problems than one and at a cost that anyone can afford. Besides using shades for an inexpensive window treatment, they can be used to divide rooms, be hung over storage shelves to hide clutter, or conceal open closets.

A fabric shade can make an important decorative contribution as well as a functional one. If desired they can offer a lively color note to a room decor, or they can blend with walls so the room seems larger.

You can buy shades of vinyl, or vinyl-coated cloth, or laminated fabric shades but so far you can't buy fabric roller shades. You have to make them!

A tight densely woven fabric is recommended as muslin, broadcloth, hopsacking or a decorative piece of fabric such as the cotton fabrics which match wallpapers. Muslin may be the price but not the design or color necessary, however, stenciling, tie-dyeing, instant batik, etc. may individualize the shade and add the accent necessary. If the shades are used on a south or west exposure, select a color which doesn't fade quickly. Pre-shrinking the fabric is advisable if you plan on cleaning the shades.

The roller and attachments can be purchased, without a shade cloth from department stores, catalogue sales and drapery retail outlets; approximate cost for a 36" roller and attachments is $1.25. Although the rollers are in several standard lengths, they can be cut to the necessary length.

In preparing the fabric for attaching to the roller, be sure the fabric is on straight grain. Do not use turned under seams because they are too bulky and the shade will not roll up easily or evenly. The selvedge is the manufacturer's finished edge and should be utilized if possible. If the shade is mounted outside the window frame, usually a selvedge may be used because it doesn't matter if the fabric extends a few inches beyond the casement. Sometimes the fabric with selvedge will be just the right width for mounting inside the window frame. If the fabric has a contrasting selvedge or printed with manufacturer's

The Alberta Cabinet has decided to make public a condensed version of the Task Force summer interim report. It hopes to obtain public and local government feed-back before the final report in December. The Task Force is holding meetings with local government associations during September. All the contents of this public report are tentative options and are not firm recommendations at this stage.

The Task Force proposes two possible plans:

(A) To relieve homeowners and farmers of 30 mill school foundation plan levy up to an assessment ceiling of $6,400. They could choose, if they preferred, to continue to receive the present Homeowner Tax Allowance. Effective date would be 1973. Benefit on an average home would be $192.

Or, (B) Homeowners and farmers would be allowed to credit the education portion of property tax against provincial income tax on the following formula: Basic Allowance, $200 or $150, Add 10% of property tax, Deduct 1% of Taxable Income, Maximum Credit, $200.

Under this scheme, many low-income property owners would receive a refund check totalling more than their total property tax - a form of negative income tax. Effective date would be 1974. Credits are reduced as income increases. This scheme can be modified to include renters.

The Task Force suggests that municipal assistance grants will continue to poorer municipalities based on their financial strength and current property tax levels.

The Task Force suggests that the province take over the total financial responsibility for hospitals.

It also suggests it may consider assuming total responsibility for local health units, senior citizen accommodations and 90% of local social assistance costs.

The Task Force suggests a uniform assessment in the province and split mill rates rather than a split assessment and uniform mill rates as at present. Under a split mill rate, commercial and industrial property would be at a higher level than residential.

The Task Force suggests that the School Foundation Plan should pay 90% of the cost of basic education as opposed to 85% at present. This would reduce local supplementary requisitions accordingly.

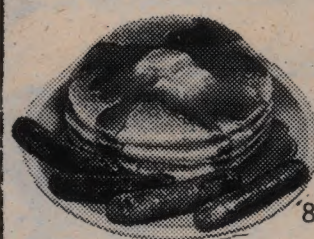

The Task Force suggests that of the combined provincial and municipal budgets in Alberta of about $1 1/2 billion, local governments should not spend more than one third. It also says that with the increased revenue from the oil industry, the combined budget has reached the recommended percentage of the Gross Provincial Product. And the combined budget should not, in future, increase annually by more than the growth in the G.P.P. (estimated at 7.5% per year).

Use of D.E.S. to be Suspended

Commenting on the announcement by federal minister of Agriculture Bud Olson August 15 that the federal government will suspend the use of D.E.S. (stillbestrol) as of January 1, 1973, Bill Dascovich of Mundare, National Farmers' Union spokesman, said that, in the light of similar action already taken by most of the beef-producing and consuming nations in the world, it would have been folly for Canada to pursue an independent course on the grounds of more economic beef production.

"Despite claims by those with vested interests to the contrary, it has been recognized by the National Farmers' Union for some time that the use of D.E.S. posed a health hazard to the consuming public," said Mr. Dascovich. "In the long run, economic gains through use of growth stimulants would have been outweighed by public resentment toward the production of unsafe food."

The federal action can only be described as responsible, and in the best interests of all concerned.

You have to live in the chambers of your own mind. How is it in there?

4-H leaders and members who attended the seventh annual 4-H Conservation Camp completed recently at the James River Bible Camp near Sundre, Alberta.

Electrical Utilities Sponsor Six-day 4-H Conservation Camp

Forty-eight young Albertans attended the seventh annual 4-H Convention Camp completed recently at the James River Bible Camp located near Sundre, Alberta.

The six-day camp is sponsored by Calgary Power Ltd., Alberta Power Limited and Northland Utilities Ltd.

The three electrical utilities work in co-operation with the 4-H and Junior Forest Warden Branch of the Alberta Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation; the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests, and Environment and the Olds College.

The theme of this year's was "Five in One" with the five study areas; soil conservation, water conservation, forest conservation, fish and wildlife management and range management all encompassed in the general message -- conservation.

Each person attending the camp selected two areas of study from among the five and divided his or her time evenly between the two subjects. Lectures, slides and films occupied about one-half of the 4-H camper's study time.

The rest of the time was spent on field trips to nearby rivers, streams, forests, grazing ranges and ranger stations.

Of course the campers' social life was not neglected either as ball games, sing-alongs, cookouts and a wind-up dance highlighted the six days. For those who had trouble rising (scheduled for 7 a.m.) there was the unexpected joy of being roused out of bed by a delegation of forty or so of his "friends".

For the graduates of this year's 4-H Conservation Camp, the work is just beginning. Now comes the round of speaking engagements, meetings and film presentations at which campers will attempt to communicate to others in their communities the value of sound conservation practices.

Some 100 friends, neighbors and relatives gathered at the Legion Hall August 5 to help Carl and Betty Bjornstad celebrate their silver wedding anniversary.

The head table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake; a gift of a chest of silver was presented by the four youngest members of the family. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Fred Fausak. Master of ceremonies was Mr. Fred Croft.

After supper, the crowd enjoyed an evening of dancing with music supplied by the Ohl Orchestra, cousins of Carl.

Alberta School Boards are virtually unanimous in their opinion that they should have the right to levy requisitions on local assessment to meet the educational needs of their area, above those possible under funding by the province's Foundation Program.

These and other opinions are emerging as a result of a survey made of 150 School Boards throughout Alberta by the Alberta School Trustees' Association. The survey, said Harald Gunderson, President of the trustee group, was undertaken in response to questions raised by the Alberta Minister of Education, at this summer's special general meeting of trustees in Calgary.

While the survey is not yet complete, it is apparent that trustees are concerned with rising education and other public costs. They favor controls on public spending, at all levels of government, not just for education purposes. "So far the goat's horns have been pinned on the schools. Our spending is not out of line with other government spending," Gunderson said.

Mr. Gunderson said trustees favor a three year financial program in conjunction with provincial funding. This would allow proper and adequate planning for most economical expenditure of public funds.

The "Three R's" heads the list of educational priorities among all Boards. A good elementary education is considered an absolute must by the Province's school trustees.

Responding boards want to do more for handicapped children. There is high concern for fund availability for such purposes, and trustees indicate they will press for such support.

Driver training courses won no popularity contest with Alberta's school trustees, being generally found on a list of low-priority items.

Results of the survey will be presented to the Government through the Minister of Education, in the near future, said Mr. Gunderson. Surprisingly, strong support for universal kindergartens did not appear.

One sure cure for a hangover is abstinence.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kuster Jr.

A wedding of interest took place when Miss Patricia Law and Henry Kuster Jr. exchanged vows on August 5.

Fr. Leo Cordeau of the St. Elizabeth Parish officiated, with Mrs. Lorenz as organist. Maid of honor was Bonnie Law, sister of the bride; and bridesmaids were Clara Kuster, sister of the groom; and Sherry Ledinski. Flower girl was Shanna Benson, with Steven Tooth as ring bearer. Best men were Tim Payne, Doug Law, and Michael Kalanowski. Carl Kuster and Barry Law acted as ushers.

A reception for about 350 people was held at the Wildwood Community hall and a dance followed with music supplied by the brothers of the bride.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver and the United States, the couple will reside in Edmonton.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuster Sr. of Creston

B.C., parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. L.J. Donovan of Port Coquitlam, grandparents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Lacelle and family of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Niven and Ri of Edmonton; Darlene McClure of Oshawa; John and Adam Mateko of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. B. ## Publication Reveals Range Improvement

The publication entitled "An Economic Guide to Range and Pasture Improvement in Alberta" is intended for livestock producers who want to assess the economic feasibility of improving their pasture land.

R. J. Miller of Alberta department of agriculture's economics division, working in conjunction with the lands division of the provincial department of lands and forests, conducted the study on which the publication is based. The information was collected from farmers and ranchers who held government grazing leases from the lands division.

"An Economic Guide to Range and Pasture Improvement in Alberta" outlines the net returns that can be expected from range and pasture improvements in the province. It has been divided into four regions because the economic feasibility of range and pasture improvement is different in each area. The publication also contains a number of tables showing such things as the maximum economically feasible expenditure on range and pasture improvement in the four regions and the years required to recover varying levels of improvement expenditures.

Copies of "An Economic Guide to Range and Pasture Improvement in Alberta" can be obtained from the publications office of the Alberta department of agriculture, Edmonton.

New Rabies Program Reimburses Farmers

The recently introduced rabies indemnification program is designed to partially reimburse a farmer who has lost an animal through rabies and to encourage farmers to report a suspected case of rabies, says Dr. G. R. Whenham, head of the Alberta veterinary field services branch.

To qualify for this joint federal - provincial cost sharing program, the farmer must have confirmation from a federal laboratory or from a veterinarian with the federal health of animals branch that the animal died from rabies.

The value of the animal from the point of view of indemnification payment is decided by a federal veterinarian. The maximum indemnity paid is $300 for cattle; $250 for horses; and $100 for swine, sheep or goats.

Tomahawk News

Congratulations to Harold Wickware and Debbie Godwin of Sanguo on their recent engagement. No wedding plans have been made as yet. Harold is working at La Pas in Manitoba for Hall's at present.

Barrhead hosted a ladies' ball tournament August 13 with six teams entered. Tomahawk Ladies played their first game against Mayerthorpe and lost 11-3. The second game was a win for Tomahawk against Tiger Lily with a score of 26-14. Tomahawk came home with the third prize.

Dan and Marion McGinn were recent visitors of Jim and Velma Shaw. They brought Dan's brother Jim, his wife Mildred and daughter, Joan, of Iroquois, Ontario, also Pat McGinn's daughter, Trudy. Pat McGinn trucked in the Tomahawk area many years ago. These were cousins that Velma had never met before, and had a grand time getting acquainted. These cousins also visited the rest of their relatives in Tomahawk and Drayton Valley.

The first weekend of August Jim and Velma Shaw went to Prince George to visit Velma's mother. Mrs. McGinn is 83 years young and lives in a senior citizen's home. Jim and Velma stayed at Velma's sister's, Colette and Cliff Stringer and family. While there they also visited Jim's sister, Gladys and husband, Gordon Campbell. As luck would have it, Alethea and Marshall Close of Fort St. John were on holidays and arrived at Prince George on the same weekend. They all spent Sunday at Alethea's cabin and went fishing on Cluculz Lake for rainbow trout. This weekend would not have been possible if Bob Shaw hadn't been on holidays and able to look after Jim's business while they were gone.

Donna and Lloyd Remus and daughters spent their first week of holidays at Penitction, B.C. The second week they spent with Donna's parents, Jim and Velma Shaw.

Lloyd enjoyed delivering gas for Jim and got a good look at the area surrounding Tomahawk, with Donna as his guide.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Wiedemann have had holidays drop in on them recently. Mrs. Wiedemann's sister, Evelyn Chidell, of Vancouver spent a few days with them. She is also visiting other relatives in Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Hans Wiedemann of Schuler, Alberta (north of Medicine Hat) second cousin of Mr. Wiedemann, stopped by while visiting in the area. Son Max of Calgary is home.

Mrs. Lemke, Rita and Lawrence all went to East Germany June 11 and arrived home July 21. This is Mrs. Lemke's second trip to Germany in recent years.

Joe and Olive Jouan went to Saskatchewan in July, visiting relatives and doing some fishing. After they got back, their daughter Joyce and husband Don went for a two-week holiday, leaving the children with Joyce's parents. Joyce and Don went via Jasper and Banff, stopped at all the hot springs along the way, visited Don's friends at Cranbrook, visited Varlyne and the Blys at Spokane, and came home by Calgary to visit friends there.

Dunbars left Saturday morning, August 12 for Harrington, Washington, six miles from Spokane, to take Polly to visit with the Bly family. On their way home, they stopped at Summerland to visit some friends that used to live near them in Ontario. They arrived home Tuesday night.

A baby shower was held at Olive Jouan's home August 13 for Donna French (nee Jouan). About a dozen ladies were present. Also present were Paul's mother, Mrs. French from Picardville, and baby Preston Craig.

Every able bodied man, woman and child is invited to the Sports Grounds on the evening of August 25 to help plant the 150 trees that will be arriving.

The Alberta department of agriculture is carrying out a farmstead beautification project under the provincial government's summer temporary employment program (STEP).

In addition to providing summer employment for students, the project is intended to help farmers improve the aesthetic value of the environment for themselves, other residents of the province and tourists. Because of economic pressures and the lack of available labor, many farmers have not had the money or the time to keep their farmsteads in a condition that does credit to the surrounding countryside. The service being offered to them under the farmstead beautification project is free.

Made up of 12 university students from several faculties, the crew started work on farms at the Edmonton end of the highway in early May. It is hoped that they will have progressed well down the highway by August 31 when this year's project finishes.

The crew consists of a supervisor, a cook and ten workers.

Depending upon this year's results, and subject to funds being available, the present farmstead beautification project is costing about $22,500.

THANK YOU

I wish to express a very sincere thank you for the many acts of kindness shown to myself and family while I was in hospital through your cards, flowers, visits and the work party who took time from their own busy day to erect the rafters on our car port. It was most appreciated. Also a very special thanks for the kind and efficient care of the doctors, nurses and hospital staff.
